❤️‍🩹 Bank Within Reach | Meet Tripp Taylor

My name is Tripp Taylor, and I'm proud to call Cullman home. I'm a graduate of Good Hope High School and Auburn University, and I work in clinical research while pursuing real estate investing.

My real estate journey began with helping manage family property. That hands-on experience showed me what it takes to care for a property well, and it's what led me to start building a portfolio of my own. I'm especially excited to keep investing in properties that contribute to Cullman's growth while building a strong foundation for my future.

Something people may not know about me is that I serve on the board of The Link of Cullman County Young Professionals. It's a great way to connect with others who are invested in this community's future.

What I love most about Cullman is that it offers real opportunity while keeping its small-town feel. People know one another, and they show up for each other. That's a big reason it's such a great place to grow a business and build lasting relationships.

I've also been fortunate to have family, friends, mentors, and local professionals who have guided me along the way. Their advice shaped how I approach my career, real estate, and community involvement.

That's why banking locally matters to me. At EvaBank, I work with people who know me, understand my goals, and are familiar with my business. That means personal guidance when I'm making a big decision, pursuing an opportunity, or dealing with something unexpected. Just as important, I can always reach the person I need. A phone call gets answered, and I'm never stuck in a queue or explaining my situation from scratch. That kind of service gives me confidence as I keep growing.

I'm grateful to be part of the Cullman community, and I look forward to continuing to grow alongside it while partnering with EvaBank!
